

An Afternoon of Sound and Literary Archives

August 27, 1 – 4 pm

Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library

Yale University, New Haven, CT

Summer with NEA presents an afternoon program for manuscript repositories archivists and others interested in literary and recorded sound archives. The program will include presentations by representatives of the Group for Literary Archives and Manuscripts (North America) and the Yale Collection of Historical Sound Recordings, as well as time for questions and discussion, networking, and refreshments.

The recently created Group for Literary Archives and Manuscripts (North America) is the initiative of Michael Forstrom, Jennifer Meehan, and Heather Dean, archivists at the Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library (Yale University), in collaboration with colleagues at other repositories in both the U.S. and Canada. They will discuss the Group and its initial work to conduct a user study of patrons' work in literary archives. For more information about the Group, please visit the website available at: <http://glamna.org>.

The Yale Collection of Historical Sound Recordings collects, preserves, and makes available for study historical recordings of performers important in the fields of Western classical music, jazz, American musical theater, drama, literature, and history. Richard Warren, HSR Curator, and Nicole Rodriguez, HSR Assistant, will present an overview of the collection, with audio examples, and discussion of preservation and reference services.

A question and answer period will follow the presentations.

Refreshments will be provided.

$10 for NEA members and $15 for non-members
